06/12/2014		MINUTE ORDER: The Court is completing its work on the pending Motions to Dismiss and expects to issue its decision within a week. In light of this and in light of the Government's apparent willingness to put off Defendant Armstrong's deposition, as well as Armstrong's assertion (which the Government has not contested) that the Government has failed to produce all outstanding discovery that may be pertinent to his deposition, it is hereby ORDERED that Defendant Armstrong's 171 Motion to Quash and Compel is granted in part and denied in part. Armstrong's request for expedited briefing and oral argument is hereby DENIED, as moot. Armstrong's motion with respect to quashing the deposition, currently set for June 23, 2014, is hereby GRANTED. Armstrong's request that the government be compelled to produce documents responsive to his First Set of Requests for Production is hereby DENIED without prejudice. Further, it is hereby ORDERED that, unless the parties agree otherwise, all depositions and noticing of same are stayed pending a ruling on the outstanding motions to dismiss. Within 20 days after the Court issues its ruling, the parties shall meet, confer and submit a jointly proposed revised scheduling order. Signed by Judge Robert L. Wilkins on 6/12/2014.
